

What Is She Means Business?

She Means Business is a Hamilton Business Centre program for women entrepreneurs who know they build better with the right people around them.

Over 12 weeks, five women meet weekly to work through the real stuff - the decisions you've been sitting on, the challenges you haven't said out loud, the things you keep saying you'll get to. You'll leave each session knowing your next move. And somewhere along the way, you'll find yourself with your own micro board of advisors - women who get what you're building and why.

- 12 Weeks, 5 Women
- Weekly Virtual Sessions
- Free to Participate

Cohorts run twice a year - September and February. Apply by booking a Quick Pitch.

For more information to apply, visit:
Hamilton Business Centre/She-Means-Business

Meet Your Facilitator

Jenn Hudder is a life and business coach based in Hamilton with close to 20 years of experience building businesses. She facilitates She Means Business on behalf of the Hamilton Business Centre - bringing real conversation, coaching support, and real momentum to every cohort.

